

Website Builder™

The fastest, easiest way to build a great golf website

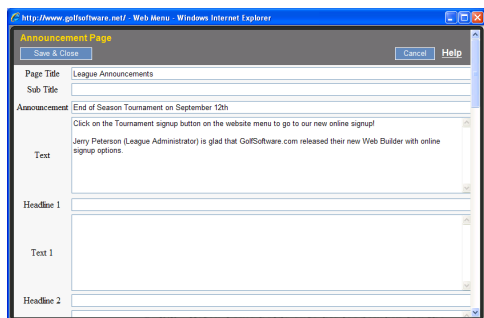

Overview

Website Builder is the first tool to allow you to build great looking websites quickly with templates for leagues, tournaments, and golf clubs. Website Builder integrates with GolfSoftware.com's League Manager, Tournament Manager, and Handicap System applications, making your golf group management easy and fast.

Website Builder has color schemes that allow you to create a unified, attractive site at the click of a button.

Website Builder is easy to use, allowing you to spend more time playing golf than administering your group's website. This screenshot shows how some pages are as easy as filling in a few blocks of text to create a sophisticated announcement page.

Communicate with Your Golf Group

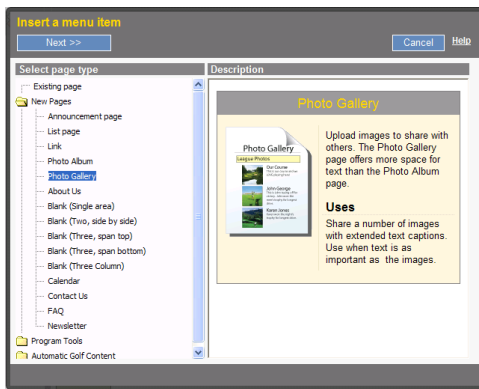

Golfers love to keep up with their position in a league or tournament. The Internet is a perfect communication medium to allow that, enabling players to check their standings, view announcements, schedules, and results, and to just keep in touch via a web forum.

Website Builder lets you do all of these things and more. Some of our most asked-for features:

- Choose website template at start to rapidly build targeted content website (league, tournament, or golf club templates get you started fast)
- Page layout templates for fast page creation
- More than one person can update simultaneously
- Change color scheme, font, header, and footer for all pages instantly
- Online Signup (automatically builds roster)
- Online Signup with credit card
- Password protected web pages
- Community Forum for discussing topics and sharing information
- Photo Gallery page with captions and descriptions
- Place PDF, text, and Word documents on the site
- Online survey/poll
- Weather with local golf guide for your area
- Custom resizable, movable content boxes for easy page layout
- Upload multiple files (html, jpg, etc.) at once
- Spelling checker
- Unique website address (www.yourgroupp.com)
- One free email address to go with your new website name (yourname@yourgroup.com)

And here are features you won't find from any other website provider:

- Dynamic, changing content (news, video tips, quotations, etc.)
- Integration with GolfSoftware.com's League Manager, Tournament Manager, and Handicap System products

There are more than a dozen page templates to choose from, as well as dynamic content pages – all of these help you build your perfect site fast!

"The Website Builder is just what I was looking for to create a more dynamic website for our golf league! Thanks!!"

Features Designed to Make Your Job Easier

Let's face it. Running a golf league is either a labor of love, or you got suckered into it because nobody else would do it. Either way, you don't want to have to spend hours of your time running your golf group, and you certainly don't need to spend time learning how to build a website.

We created Website Designer to make creating a great website as easy as writing a Word document. Use our golf website templates to build your site fast. You can be up and running with an attractive, fully-functional site in less than an hour, with no prior website experience.

And you can upload reports quickly from other GolfSoftware.com tools so that you can make your site an important part of your golf group communication. No more printing and posting reports or emailing updates every week. Post all of your information online and save time.

Put any information that you would usually print onto your own website. The players love it because all of the group's information is accessible on the Internet. All members have online access to reports, group standings, individual standings, game results, schedules, tee times, next round info, handicapping reports, group rules & documents, photos, emails, announcements, etc. Post whatever information you wish on your website.

How It Works

Website Designer is an Internet-based tool. There is no software to download. All you need is a connection to the Internet, and you can build your site from anywhere. Website Builder is a powerful golf course website builder, USGA handicap websites builder, and golf tournament website builder. Call us for a 30-day free trial of Website Builder.

Once you subscribe to Website Builder, you will be able to access the design tool directly from the Internet, or from within any GolfSoftware.com product. GolfSoftware.com hosts your website and the Website Builder design tool.

Website Builder costs $29.95 per month, which includes:

- Your website, with full access to Website Builder
- Technical support for all GolfSoftware.com products that you own
- Custom website name (such as yourgroup.com)
- One email address for your group (you@yourgroup.com)
- You can park your site for a period of time for $30, allowing you to keep the site available to visitors during your off-season
